

15. Camera Confidence-Creating Professional Videocasts

Let's sort out talking to camera. It might feel weird at first, but it's a crucial skill in esports and gaming content. This isn't about being the next big streamer - it's about presenting yourself professionally on video. We'll cover the basics of eye contact, position, and delivery. Plus, those technical bits that make a big difference to your final product. Time to get comfortable with that lens.
